

Flora audition piece

FLORA: I'm going to miss all of you. And the stage. I'll be there at this time every night, singing to myself in the kitchen. What about you, Estelle? Have you got your eye on anyone?

ESTELLE: Chance would be a fine thing. Between this job and the other, I hardly have a minute to myself.

FLORA: It'll happen when you least expect it. You'll see, someone will snap you up. Give it a year or two and I won't recognise a face in here.
