

Marion audition piece

Marion is wearing her mother's wedding dress!

JOE: Charming!

MARION: I know. He seemed so nice as well. What am I going to do now?

JOE: Change your clothes?

MARION: Mum doesn't know I took the dress. I'm going to have to sneak in after she's gone to bed. But we can't just wander around until then. What are people going to think?

JOE: We could always go to the music hall.

MARION: In a wedding dress?

JOE: It could be a white gown. No one is going to notice you there.

MARION: Fine. I'm in. But if anyone makes a joke about the dress, I'm leaving.

JOE: A runaway bride, to match the runaway groom, sounds like you two could have been a perfect match, after all.

MARION: Leave off.
